

Dr. Dalton Avila

Doctor in Medical Sciences at the University of Guayaquil. Ecuador. Specialization in Obstetrics and Gynecology and Maternal Fetal Medicine at the National University of Mexico. Master on Scientific Research and Academic Publishing. Chief Editor of Latin American Journal of Perinatology and the Latin American Journal of Obstetrics and Gynecology. Professor of Scientific Research and Scientific Writing. University of Guayaquil. Secretary General of the Latin American Federation of Perinatal Medicine Associations. President of the Latin American Society of Medical Editors. Author of 119 scientific research reports in the areas of Obstetrics, Perinatology, Fetal Medicine, Human Reproduction, Medical Writing, Research and Science Communication. Author or editor of 9 books in the area of Scientific Research, Obstetrics and Perinatology. Lecturer and Professor in 87 international scientific events. Scientific Research Consultant on perinatal area. Main areas of scientific activity: Strategies to return to natural birthing. Vaginal delivery in patients with previous cesarean section. Teaching of new technologies for vaginal delivery training. Teaching new skills on scientific research and academic writing. Senior Academic Consultant University of Guayaquil. Ecuador.